DETAILED ACTION

Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 20-142, drawn 1-37 or 58-87, classified in class 530, subclass 399.
- II. Claims 143-216, drawn to hCG-beta muteins having mutations in the regions not comprising a beta hairpin loop, classified in class 530, subclass 399.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

While both groups are drawn to muteins of hCG-beta, the two sets of muteins are mutually exclusive. As muteins of hCG beta itself do not constitute a novel invention, for example see WO 97/04098, cited by applicants, each region of the molecule requires separate search and consideration of the prior art, which search would be burdensome.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election of Species

In addition to the above restriction requirement, an election of species is also required.

If applicant elects Invention I:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: each individual substitution recited in claim 20 constitutes a separate species of the invention, for a total of 119 distinct species of the invention. The species are independent or distinct because as stated above, mutations in the recited region are not novel over the prior art. Each individual mutation requires separate search and consideration of novelty, obviousness, and enablement.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Art Unit: 1647

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is encouraged to include with their traversal of this requirement any suggestions they may have as to how any additional traversed species could be examined without presenting an undue burden to the examiner.

If applicant elects Invention II:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: each individual substitution recited in claim 143 constitutes a separate species of the invention, for a total of 73 distinct species of the invention. The species are independent or distinct because as stated above, mutations in the recited region are not novel over the prior art. Each individual mutation requires separate search and consideration of novelty, obviousness, and enablement.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is encouraged to include with their traversal of this requirement any suggestions they may have as to how any additional traversed species could be examined without presenting an undue burden to the examiner.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
